

REASONS FOR NOMINATION

It is important that you tell the selection panel why this early childhood educator, centre director, teacher, or principal should be considered for an award. Where possible, include evidence and examples of one or more of the following:

How the early childhood educator or teacher:

- plays an active role in the classroom and school/centre community
- provides and maintains a challenging and future-focused learning environment for all
- builds trust and rapport within the classroom and across the school/centre community
- builds the capacity and capability of students to lead their own learning
- monitors and evaluates student progress effectively and makes changes as a result.

How the principal or centre director:

- monitors and evaluates student progress and school/centre practices, and makes changes as a result
- inspires and leads learning to provide and maintain a challenging and future-focused learning environment for all
- builds trust and rapport across the school/centre community, and with other school/centre communities
- builds the capacity and capability of others to lead
- is judged by students, parents, colleagues and/or the wider community for his/her contribution and commitment as a leader.
